THE "LABOR" AND THE PARTIES.

The disorder within the Chicago Committee of the "United Labor party" has its equal in the Dock Ward workmen, arrived at yesterday's Tribune, in an extraordinary document from every point of view. It is in the nature of a last appeal of nine Communistic Socialists who have withdrawn from connection with the other committee. Over the names of the packers and their counsel, the workingmen and United Labor party committees, however, with more or less their property should be taken from their hands and distributed among those who have filled their time and spared their wages, or who may have come into the place of the class of Communistic Europe during the last three or four years in search of peace, security and that wealth inspires the gentlemen of their property would destroy the like to any other man's property and advantage; but that a question when the Socialists who of adopting from many of the Dock Ward workmen are ready to accept the fundamental doctrines of the Dock Hall on this point were anything? Suppose that the labor committee casting the electric should succeed in confounding the property of the workers and destroying those ideas. What then? Who are to own and those who they are urged not and the laws for the protection of property are repealed? Who are to succeed the men who have built up these vast industries of Chicago, and who for the most part have helped to build up the nation around their establishments, a population able to live? Surely not the Communistic workers.

There is a law of natural selection recommended by the masters of those who succeed. A man may work as much as the Dock Ward ought to get into business for themselves the law will prevent them in so doing. It encourages the formation of subjective associations. If a number of the skilled workers find that they are invested in that way there is opportunity for them. There are a number of men now in the packing business in a small way. They would be glad to take skilled workers who have a small capital, even without capital. It is to such workers that the large workers have supplied their wants. If the workingmen are dissatisfied with the terms of labor, the rate of pay, or the character of the work they are employed at, they are free to go into business, and the law protects them in so doing. They do not seem to be inclined. On the contrary, they return to Copenhagen from every city in America and from every country in Europe to work for wages at the high wages paid. There is no competition. All is voluntary. The law protects this voluntary action. It punishes those who would obstruct or interfere with it. This protection for one seeks to the two old parties to which the workingmen belonged.

There is no hope, however, from following the Communistic lines of the "United" committee. That means chaos, disorder, plunder. It is the progress of anarchy. It presages the ruin of the red flag and steel.

The honest, common-sense workingmen of the Town of Lake and of the packing region can have no sympathy with these fiendish.

THE LAKE SHORE STREET RAILWAY.

The franchises of the Lake Shore Railway Company have to a great power to carry about three hundred of the Legislature. This should mention of the three Counties of Lake, McHenry and Boone, were good for a large Republican majority. When the convention met it was supposed that the Democrats would run, but one candidate for the Senate, as usual, and that would be Logan. Unable to have more than two Republicans in the field, but as it turned there are two of them, Haines of Lake and Wait of McHenry, each carrying on a vigorous campaign for himself, and each to divide the Democratic party vote and thus make it secure nothing for a third Republican candidate without endangering the election of either of the two original nominees—Charles A. Partridge of Lake and Charles D. Fuller of Boone. The vote of the district two years ago stood as follows:

| | Rep. | Dem. |
|---|---|---|
| Boone | 2,000 | 1,000 |
| McHenry | 2,000 | 1,000 |
| Lake | 3,000 | 1,000 |
| Total | 7,000 | 3,000 |

As each voter has three votes for Representative the Republicans of the district have 21,000 votes and the Democrats 11,000. Divide the former by three and the other by two, and the result would be 7,000 for each of three Republicans and 5,500 for each of two Democrats, a difference of 1,500 in favor of the three Republicans. That is certainly as safe a margin as any candidates can ask for, and with two good Republicans from McHenry County to selected. The two original candidates would not seriously object to such an arrangement, and it is the urgent duty of the State Central Committee to see to it that a fair candidate is put in the field. If the committee cannot or will not do it, then either the Boone and McHenry Committees or the McHenry County Committee should take the responsibility of it. To sacrifice one member of the House is very bad politics. The Republicans are perfectly certain of electing two Republicans to our county, and all that is needed is to place three names on their ticket, casting one vote for each and no plumping, and the whole ticket will go in by a triumphant majority. So the Republicans managed to have both a good thing when they are 3,000 ahead the way up and? Does they are carpenters, saws, gas-engineers go to Boone? Do they have enough to strike when the time is ripe? Here, sure a sure-thing! It is a clear case of everything to gain and nothing to lose. It may secure the House and make Fuller Speaker.

APPLICATION OF UNITED STATES SUPREME.

The decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in the case of the Friends, St. Louis & Pacific Railroad Company vs. The People of the State of Illinois is highly important. It seems now a constitutional reading to be a limit on the power of a State to regulate transportation charges and to be a tribunal against the Granger decisions, a step both toward the doctrine of the Democratic Chicago case. But care is not the last. That principle is not very well-settled by the last decision has rendered all the more secure. The anti-monopoly and anti-railroad policy of Illinois, embodied in the Constitution of 1870 and carried out by the National and Wisconsin act, has been continued by Judge Gresham's decision in the case, and this great "anti-monopoly law" accordingly makes clear and restores the decisions of Congress.

The power of Congress to regulate commerce between States, if it be clear, was assumed, but it was denied that in the absence of such legislation our State Board of Railroad and Warehouse Commissioners could exercise such jurisdiction in the case of proposing unjust discriminations in favor of particular shippers between points in the State. In other words, that the State could prevent the charging of more for hauling goods to the interior from Illinois than from Paris. According to the decision, if Congress should fail to exercise a power, any State or locality or the like, a State would step in and exercise the function that Congress had failed to exercise. But apart from all legal and constitutional considerations it seems to be unreasonable and unjust to adopt a State or sanction the movement which has in part caused the late Interstate Commerce Act. It is not conducive to the best interests of the State that the Granger decisions should be overthrown. It would be a great misfortune if the Supreme Court should now declare that the State could do as it pleased in the matter of railroad regulation. The Illinois court and the Illinois Supreme Court have simply declared that if corporations and railroads are to be allowed to exercise the sovereign power of taxation they must be subject to the control of the State. That would not interfere with the power of Congress to regulate commerce between States, but it would prevent the railroads from exercising the power of taxation without the consent of the State. Under a Democratic Supreme Court decision the Granger decisions would be overthrown, and the Democratic party would be relieved from the embarrassment which has grown out of the Granger decisions. The Democratic party has been forced to take a position which is not in accordance with the principles of the party, and which is not in accordance with the principles of the party. The Democratic party has been forced to take a position which is not in accordance with the principles of the party. The Democratic party has been forced to take a position which is not in accordance with the principles of the party.

Doesn't this Make Plain Sailing for You?

We trust you will make yourself thoroughly acquainted with us, and find out our policy of low prices and liberality.

We have no "leader" prices. Many special qualities of cloth we have, to which we give inducement extraordinary, but no "leader" prices.

What do we mean by that?

We don't make a bait of a very low price on an article, or a suit or two, to get you in the store to see our other prices.

Throughout our whole stock the tickets tell you the prices—plainly and positively—the least we think the goods worth; below the ordinary store prices, mostly; always as low.

You can hold up to the strongest every word we say about the quality and workmanship being true, and the wear of the clothing.
